A Vision for the Children of Mayette, Haiti

Background

Consistently ranked near the bottom in country wealth per capita rankings, Haiti as a nation is unbelievably poor. Education is a rarity for the children of the Northwest Peninsula of Haiti; especially one with such quality as the education CCI strives to provide. Disease, famine, and the effects felt from natural disasters that have taken place over the last decade in Haiti creates a landscape of despair and anguish for many families living within this Peninsula and Haiti as a whole.

Executive Summary

Recently, CCI has, with the help of several churches in this peninsula, identified twelve schools in need of support. These schools require great funding and planning to succeed, and aim to give underprivileged students the education they need and deserve. These schools require great funding and planning to come to fruition. CCI would like to continue this ministry in one of these locations in the Peninsula, at a school in Mayette, Haiti.

The Project

An infrastructure has been identified as being needed when building these schools in Northwest Haiti. While much of the focus must be on the children, the school must be able to provide ample accommodation and opportunities for both students and teachers. Many existing school buildings in Haiti are not steady enough for a seismically active area such as Haiti. Therefore, CCI's aim is to create schools that have a solid foundation and learning spaces at the core of their existence. Schools complete with these two areas, even when not fully developed in other smaller areas, provide safe learning environments for students. When built upon this system, children and teachers thrive, and a quality education is no longer a dream or a wish, but rather a daily occurrence.
